If you have a terrace or backyard space, spending an abundance of time at home this year is infinitely easier. You can have time in the fresh air while practicing social distance. Of course, that space of yours should be somewhere you actually want to hang out - and new furniture will help with that. Even if you have a small terrace, adding key pieces can open up space and make it a comfortable place to lounge for hours on hot summer days. It doesn't have to be expensive or hard to offer, either: Walmart has tons of furniture for small terraces that are both affordable and chic. All you need is available at Walmart: an outdoor fire pit that is also portable? You can do it. A foldable picnic table that you can easily store if you're not using it? Course. A removable tray in your outdoor chair that you can put on your snacks and an ice-cold drink? It's there, too. True Walmart style, everything is affordable, so it doesn't ruin the bank to pick up some things. If you're not sure where to start, we took the liberty of combing through Walmart's offerings and put together a list of the best picks. Check out our favorites below, then head over to Walmart to see everything a small terrace might need. This portable outdoor fire pit doesn't need any assembly, so it's pretty much ready to use the right box: Just add propane fuel and press the button on the side of the ignite. Lava stones are attached to the fire burn, and it has a pretty copper finish. Buy: walmart.com, $375 This set looks as if it's been cancelled straight from a bistro in Paris, so adding it to your backyard will make you feel like you've done at least a little travel this year. Even better: chairs and table times easily if you don't use them, so you can save them elsewhere to make more room if you want. Buy: walmart.com, $150 (originally $200) This picnic table also folds up when it's not in use, making it a fantastic option for small outdoor spaces. It includes a table and two benches that sit for four to six people, so you can accommodate the whole family - or if you want, you can fold it together so that one of the benches becomes the backrest of another. Buy: walmart.com, from $99 (originally $126) This tray attaches to any outdoor chair with a metal bar on your armrest and supports a single drink and snack. It's ideal if you're spending a lazy day outside your comfortable lounge chair - just put all your snacks on it, and you don't have to get up when you feel peckish. Buy: walmart.com, $10 (originally $28) This Adirondack bench holds two people and offers comfortable seating without having too much space. It has a natural-looking faux wood finish atop a steel frame that ensures it remains durable throughout Years. The best part? That's less than $200. Buy: walmart.com, $169 This portable grill is ideal if you want to grill, but actually there is no patio space big enough for a full barbecue. It works with gas, so you can grill as usual - the only difference is that when you're done with it, you just have to clean it and then fold it. Simple peasy.
